

Roderick Gray Iron Banks 10th November 2017

The report this time is one of those that has been written by someone who wasn't there . . . but knew someone who was.

Thick snow, a mass brawl and an alien abduction were some of the things that didn't happen. However, the DD&DMC put on a very enjoyable trial having ordered up bright sunshine and an absence of rain . . . the Arctic wind arrived uninvited.

The hills were set where the hills go at Iron Banks - three overlooking the meandering Swale, the picturesque Abbey and the sewage works, three in the boggly wood.

So, Barry had a good start but Bryan Walker had the best card at lunch. Mark Campbell cleaned everything in the afternoon . . . until Hill 2 in the last round when a 6 found its way onto his card. That left Mark on the same score as Mike Salton and Mike had one more clear. Mark Milne came in a very tidy third.

Bob Packham did very nicely in his recently acquired Kincraft to carry off the Class B award and to make it three live axles in the top five. Jonathan Hughes had a bit of a ropey start but made good use of some pointers to post a promising (and C Class winning) score.

Thanks to Neil Metcalfe and the Darlington posse.
